SCM Group Invites you to a Lean Thinking Seminar February 12, 2016

SCM Group North America is presenting a unique opportunity for customers to join them in learning about the value of applying Lean Thinking to create a winning combination of productivity and profit improvement for both. Join us as Jim Lewis and Brad Cairns of The Center for Lean Learning partner with us to launch the Lean Journey at SCM.

The Lean Thinking seminar topics will include:

- Lean Thinking's effect on improving productivity with and without automation and technology
- Discussion about how you can maximize the equipment that you already own or are considering purchasing by applying some of the tools and techniques of Lean

HEAR WHAT THEIR CLIENTS HAVE TO SAY:

"The Lean thinking strategy that Jim and Dave brought to my business has enabled us to improve productivity 400%. Once the staff understood how to apply Lean tools and techniques there was no way to hold back their creative and innovative intellect". Brad Cairns, CEO

"I have to admit that I was skeptical that our custom products company could achieve the productivity levels that Jim and Dave perceived. However, after eighteen months of applying Lean thinking to every aspect of our business, I am a firm believer. It is amazing how much waste we continue to uncover on a daily basis. The production planning process that they brought to the company enabled us to eliminate back orders and achieve 100% on-time order completion within our 40-hour work schedule". Daryl Duke, Plant Manager
